COMPANY PROFILE

SUMMARY

Enanta Pharmaceuticals is a drug discovery company specializing in the development of small molecule anti-infective agents, especially macrolide and ketolide antibiotics.

LICENSING AGREEMENTS

In March 2003, Enanta received a milestone payment from Chiron for the completion of the first phase of Enanta's research for the discovery and development of small molecule HCV therapeutics. In September 2002, Enanta signed an exclusive, joint collaboration with Chiron for the discovery and development of small molecule HCV therapeutics. Enanta was to apply its macrocyclic chemistry and medicinal chemistry expertise to design and synthesize compounds targeting enzymes involved in the replication of the virus. Chiron gave Enanta a non-exclusive license to its HCV patents and Enanta gave Chiron an exclusive worldwide license to compounds that were developed. Enanta was also to receive research funding, milestone payments and royalties, while Chiron was to be responsible for preclinical and clinical development, manufacturing and sales and marketing.

FINANCIAL

In March 2013, Enanta announced the pricing of its initial public offering of 4 million common stock shares at a price of US $14 each. The shares traded on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the symbol 'ENTA'. The underwriters were granted a 30-day option to buy up to an additional 0.6 million common stock shares to cover over-allotments. The offering was expected to close on March 26, 2013; later that month, the offering was closed.

In November 2012, Enanta filed a registration statement with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission for proposed initial public offering of its common stock.

In August 2004, Enanta raised $20 million in new financing, including contributions from Shionogi & Co Ltd, in order to advance its bridged bicyclic ketolide, EP-013420, into phase I trials, and to progress the company's discovery-stage anti-infective programs.

In January 2004, Enanta raised $12 million in financing to advance its lead macrolide antibiotic program into clinical trials.
